Book Sale Guidelines

- Please mark the price you want on each book and list them all on the CONA Book Sale form. Prices must be firm. There are too many variables to take offers or negotiate prices.
- Use a removable label that won't fall off (post-it notes probably won't work). We have a limited supply of the labels we use for the books we have now, just ask. Patty & I will have some at the meetings and shows coming up.
- You may drop off your books anytime during the show - Thursday, Friday or Saturday. The earlier, the more exposure they have.
- Bring the filled-out CONA Book Sale form with you when you drop off the books, or earlier if possible. The list can be emailed to Dan.
- You must take unsold books with you when you leave or at the end of the show. If the room is available, Thursday may be kind of a Dealer/Green Hats time, but anyone will be welcome all days.
- Settlement will take place after the show, most likely in a week or so.
- If you would like to work at the sale, please send Dan or Patty an email indicating times and days. Even one hour will help.
- A CONA Book Sale form is included with this newsletter. Forms will also be available at club meetings, the picnic and Hilliard shows prior to August.
